Re: Web Developer

I'm writing as I wish to apply for this role as advertised on Trade Me.

Listing #: 1665852061

I currently work in a small unit of web developers as part of a larger media and design team.

My current role and expertise includes:

- 1. Creating applications using JavaScript, jQuery, API and Ajax to:
  - create personalized front-end user experiences
  - program automated functions that are easy to update and maintain
  - produce prototypes from designer concepts.
- 2. Solving problems in content, design and functionality by:
  - creating and documenting fixes for common issues
  - analyzing and creating fixes for outlier bugs
  - predicting and finding solutions to potential future problems.
- 3. Evolving products and processes through:
  - researching new development frameworks and ideas
  - creating standardized code templates and packages
  - creating backwards-compatible and future-proof code snippets
  - meeting with staff from different teams to gain feedback and ideas.
- 4. Mentoring web developers and designers by:
  - running coding tutorials for JavaScript, jQuery, CSS, Bootstrap
  - creating learning programs for external providers to teach our new intakes
  - mentoring new staff members on a day-to-day basis.

Although not pertinent to my role, I also:

- run our organization's kapa haka groups;
  - weekly waiata and haka groups,
  - kōnohete (inter-agency concert) group
- aid in the management and execution of cultural events related to;
  - Māori language week,
  - Māori New Year,
  - Pōwhiri and Pō Whakangahau
- aid in the organizing of corporate-social functions.

I would really appreciate an opportunity to discuss the requirements and expectations of the role further. Thank you for considering my application; I look forward to your response.

Yours sincerely,

Daniel Nelmes-Love
